ON ORDINANCE TO

If Perkasie Body Does Not

Street Committee Chairman
Urges Early Action For Winter Work

PERKASIE, July 10—Chief Burgess Roy Benner has informed Perkasie borough council that if that body does not enact an ordinance to prevent dogs from running at large throughout the borough, he will call in authorities to see that the state law in reference to such be enforced to the letter.

Councilmen, a few months ago, took under consideration an ordinance for control of dogs here, but no definite action followed.

Council devoted a large portion of the time Monday evening to making plans for the purchase of electric current from the Penna. Power and Light Company because expansion plans at the municipally owned electric light plant have been abandoned.

Willard Shaddinger, of the electric light committee, reported that his committee had prepared a contract to purchase the current from the power and light company. Members of the committee, Borough Solicitor Lawrence Grim and representatives of the power and light company have made a study of the agreement with the result it was suggested that several revisions be made. Representatives of the power and light company will have the revisions made and they will be presented to Council at a special meeting.

Burgess Benner, in addition to insisting that the dog law be enforced, called council's attention to the poor condition of the sidewalk in front of the electric light plant. The condition, he said, should be remedied.

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Three persons, one of whom was a 17-year-old girl, figured in an automobile-motorcycle crash, at Doylestown, Saturday, when two vehicles collided at Union and North Clinton streets.

Chief of Police Felix R. Gowan stated that Stanley Moore, Mount Airy, and Joyce Williamson, 17, Camden, N. J., were riding a motorcycle and Kenneth C. Thomas, Darity, was operating a car.

According to Chief Gowan, Thomas, the motorist, was halfway across the North Clinton and Union street intersection when he saw the motorcycle approaching.

The motorcyclist attempted to swerve in front of the car to avoid a collision, but failed.

Miss Williamson, who was riding tandem fashion on the motorcycle, was hurled to the street and suffered a cut on the left side of the head which required three stitches. She also suffered cuts on the left hand and brush burns on the left arm.

The young woman was taken to Doylestown Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Auchy, Quakertown, were entertained at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Nause, Quakertown, in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home, Wednesday evening.

Thirty-five persons were present.

Excavation on the flood control rectification program west of the Main street bridge at Sellersville is progressing rapidly.

Contractor Harry Barndt must excavate a channel 35 feet wide and to the depths of the creek bed this year. By November, 1949, he must have excavated a channel 75 feet wide at the top.

Months ago the state highway department had undertaken a study of flood control. One of their recommendations was a channel from the concrete bridge to the trolley bridge, thence into West Rockhill township. The cost was prohibitive for the borough after consideration immediate commitments on water and sewage extensions and improvements.

Thus when Barndt made his offer, the council accepted the proposal following a study by borough engineer, Frank M. O'Rourke.

County Agent William F. Greenwalt has announced that a 4-H vegetable judging school will be held tonight at eight o'clock in his office, at Doylestown, where H. F. McFeely, Extension Marketing specialist of State College, will instruct in the judging of vegetables.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Thousands of Greek Communists and supporters were arrested yesterday in early morning raids that, the Government said, had crushed a revolutionary plot designed to assassinate officials and capture public buildings. More than 2,300 persons were seized in the Athens area. They were sent to nearby islands to await civil trial.

Foreign Minister Tsaldaris conferred in Washington with Secretary Marshall. The State Department said it had had no advance notice of the raids, which were held to be an internal affair of Greece.

Fifteen nations have accepted the invitation to the Paris conference on the Marshall plan Saturday. Of the countries in the Soviet orbit, Czechoslovakia accepted with qualifications, Finland was reported to have accepted; Poland, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Bulgaria refused to attend and Albania and Hungary had given no answer.

Assistant Secretary of State Arthur deplored the decision of the Soviet satellites, evidently under Moscow pressure, and hoped Russia would reconsider her own boycott.

STORY OF A LAWBREAKER

The driver who killed himself and also the driver of another car in this shambles had stubbornly persisted in driving when he was fatigued after too many hours on the road. As his car came over the bridge, his weary brain blanked out for a split second, his hands relaxed on the wheel. His car grazed the bridge abutment, skidding across the road, and crashed into an approaching automobile. Motorists for their own safety, and for the sake of others on the road, have no right to drive when overtired. National Conservation Bureau safety specialists advise: don't wait until you are tired; pull off the road at intervals; drink a cup of coffee, take a few moments' rest.

IF YOU EAT—READ THIS!

Maybe there are some people around who have found a way to live without eating.

If so, they needn't bother with the Truman report on how much American food was sent abroad for "relief" purposes during the year ending June 30.

The rest of us, who have learned we need a supply of food to keep going, have every reason to sit up and take notice.

There was lots of political dynamite in the report. Perhaps that is why it was released in the midst of the Fourth of July Holiday, when everyone's mind was on other things, and one more fire-cracker—even a blockbuster—might not be noticed.

The explosive features of the report include the following: It shows that a great deal more food was exported than anyone knew in advance or realized at the time.

It reveals that several basic foodstuffs (wheat, corn, etc.) which were bumper crops last year were turned into potential scarcities by huge shipments abroad.

It contains the facts for full explanation of "high prices." Food costs are the worst and most irritating of the rising costs of living of which the President has protested so often. Yet he knew all the time—or could have found out—that it wasn't private greed or profiteering, but a fixed governmental policy, which was driving them upward.

The report contains the jig-saw pieces which fit together to form the picture of a neat little political plot to punish the opponents of price control by guaranteeing that prices would soar after the OPA was disbanded.

It contains evidence to indicate the existence of an invisible "super" government at Washington, pulling the strings from behind the scenes—scheming, plotting, already in command of dictatorial powers over the government and the national economy.

And it embraces some of the neatest and most audacious falsehoods and suppressions which the brazen experts in New Deal (Socialistic) propaganda have yet laid before the public in official form.

The size of the food-export program is its most striking feature. As the President put it, "This is the largest total of food ever shipped from one country in a single year."

Red Cross Issues Vacation Hint

With thousands of Philadelphians and suburbanites planning daily and week-end trips to the country and other favored holiday spots during the summer months, Red Cross Safety Services today issued a list of possible dangers that can be avoided if proper precautions are taken.

In addition to the usual warnings against over-exertion in the sun and swimming in unfamiliar waters or at unprotected beaches, Red Cross points out that trouble may be encountered even in such apparently harmless pastimes as hiking.

A common hazard to hikers and campers is the ordinary tick which may transmit serious and often fatal diseases such as spotted fever or tularemia, they warn.

In order to prevent harm, Red Cross advises hikers to observe the following points:

Make a thorough inspection of body twice a day. A tick which has "taken hold" can be usually removed by using tweezers or by grasping the insect between the fingers with a piece of cloth. Pull gently but firmly to avoid leaving the tick's head under the skin. If too deeply embedded, consult a physician at once.

Poisonous snakes also present a camping and hiking hazard in many sections. Wear high leather boots in snake-infested country and take special care when picking flowers or berries or in climbing along ledges and cliffs.

If bitten by a snake, don't run. Stay quiet because muscular effort spreads the poison. Put a tight band around the arm or leg directly above the fang marks. Make several cross cuts above the fang marks and apply suction with a suction cup or with the mouth. Obtain medical care as quickly as possible.

TRAVEL AND THE PARKS

According to the latest information concerning travel, about one-fourth of the vacationists who have at least two weeks to spend on a holiday will visit the western mountains and the national parks.
At one time the veteran American traveler thought it necessary to visit the Alps or journey to the Norwegian fjords. Frequently some hardy soul would fight the rigors of the climate and high altitudes in the Caucasus, the Himalayas and the Andes.

Traveling about the world has a settling influence, and it is gradually dawning upon the globe-trotter that the United States holds supremacy in world scenery. The sweeping ranges, the great forests and beautiful waters are the most fascinating in the world. The Grand Canyon, Yellowstone and the Yosemite Valley will compare with international scenery anywhere. In order to prove that America surpasses all Glacier National Park, Crater
Lake, Mount Rainier, Sequoia
National Park, Mount McKinley
and many just as famous. In general, nature has blessed America with beautiful beauty for the enrichment of the human mind.

NOT UNEXPECTED

Great Britain and France never actually expected Russian cooperation in what is termed the "Marshall Plan," so there is no valid ground for disappointment that the land of the Communists is not interested in this improvisation for relief to Europe on a huge scale, to be financed by American taxpayers.

At the start, indeed, both Britain and France had expected to go it alone, and this they are still prepared to do if the U. S. Congress unties the purse strings.

For the United States the alternative scheme proposed by Moscow was obviously impossible of acceptance. It involved nothing more or less than handing over billions of American dollars for European states to do with as they please. That is the Soviet idea of "cooperation," not only in this present instance but in every case affecting the rehabilitation of the continent. Take all and give nothing is the Moscow motto.

Why anybody in Washington,
from 1933 to the present, ever was gullible enough to hope that the Moscow Communists would change this policy, is of course
the mystery.

Perhaps it is fortunate that the Russians have again made their position clear. Even those European states which have permitted themselves to be drawn into the Soviet circle may be awakened to the fact that they have made a mistake.

In all discussions of the failure of the Paris conference, one factor
has been too often overlooked:
Any grandiose scheme for spending the taxpayers' money, whether for global relief or some other purpose, must of necessity be approved by Congress. Whether Congress is still in a global spending mood remains to be seen.

If You Eat -- Read This!

That the food program was going far beyond its scope as outlined and approved a year ago was not news to those who had followed such matters in the long-distance fashion which our Federal leaders think is sufficient for a people they said
"are too damn dumb to know what is going on."

Readers of this column, for example, were informed last March of the size which behind-the-scenes figures in Washington had boondoggled the program into. That was when figures were released showing that food exports in the year 1946 totaled the fantastic and record-breaking sum of $2,000,000,000. Dollar estimates on the total of the fiscal year shipments were not included; but they are unquestionably still higher.

The impact of this program on food supplies and food prices in the U. S. A. has been terrific. The answer now is plain to the oft-heard question of why all bakery goods have kept on soaring in price after a bumper wheat crop. Not only was the supply of wheat (and therefore flour) reduced so that the law of supply and demand would force prices up; but the method of purchasing foodstuffs for shipment abroad guaranteed that prices would soar.

Every dollar's worth of food which the government bought for export was bought above the normal market price. There is no secret about this. There has been a name for it, in fact: "farm support."

Food prices were deliberately pegged abnormally high by the government of which President Truman is the head—and the taxpayers were called upon to keep them high.

What do you think of President Truman's frequent protests about high prices (including food prices) in the light of that fact?

And do you think the further fact that his braintrusts have found it expedient to spend hundreds of millions of tax dollars to force food prices up and keep them up is a valid reason for his refusing to let Congress cut taxes?

The speed with which the food-export program was boosted secretly after Congress had given it the nod is clearly shown in statistics on the shipments of wheat, taken right out of the report itself.

A year ago last May, when the program was being outlined for Congress and the American people, how much wheat did the government say it planned to ship? It's in the reports: "As far back as May, 1946, we announced that definite foreign needs for around 267,000,000 bushels of wheat, in addition to other grains, were already known."

By fall, after the program was under way, this estimate was raised to 400,000,000.

Now it is revealed that the actual shipments totalled 563,
000,000 bushels.

In other words, our national government exactly DOUBLED the key wheat shipments after it got permission to go ahead with the program!

The Senate passed by voice vote a bill to unify the armed services under a civilian Secretary of National Security. House approval was believed certain. Lieut. Gen. J. Law-succeed General Eisenhower.

The Senate Finance Committee
favorably reported the Republican income tax reduction bill re-passed by the House.

Southern soft-coal operators accepted the new John L. Lewis contract. Representative Hartley declared that the agreement violated
the labor law that he and Senator Taft introduced and asserted that the operators were liable to criminal penalties. APL leaders decided to test the law in the courts, to fight for its repeal, to campaign against all Congressmen who had voted for it and to omit "no-strike" clauses from future contracts.

OUTBOARD RACERS, TOTALING 26, ARE SIGNED FOR 13TH

Eastern States Short-Course Championships To Be Held at Eddington

WILLIAMS IS ENTERED

Racer from Eddington Will Be On Hand To Defend
His Title

EDDINGTON, July 10.—Twenty-six of the East's outstanding outboard speedboat racers have already filed entry blanks for the Eastern States Short-Course Speedboat Championships to be held at the Aquadrome, here, Sunday.

Francis (Doc) Williams, local driver who won the Class 1 Aquadrome feature event last month and who has taken five firsts and finished in the money in every start this season on the Eastern Short-Course circuit, will be on hand to defend his title. Williams will be faced with tough competition from Gil Peterman, Bronx, N. Y., driver, who has beaten Williams in his last two starts. Others who will battle it out in the two qualifying events to win starting spots in the Class 1 championship feature are Lee Clarke, New Haven, Conn.; Jack Schiedel, Orelan, Pa.; Bill Guldin, Conestoga, Pa.; Henry Shakeshaft, White Plains, N. Y.; Ed VanHouten, Kearney, N. J.; Johnny Moriau, Bound Brook, N. J.; Byron Shannon, Audubon, N. J.; Larry Teel, Lambertville, N. J.; Bill Garberg, Far Rockaway, N. Y., and Dean Worcester, Silver Spring, Md.

Byron Shannon, Audubon, N. J., who won his first Aquadrome feature last month, will try for two straight against a fast field of the Class 2, 60 mph boats. Walt Edwards, Philadelphia, 1946 Aquadrome Champion, who flipped twice this season at the Drome, will be out to beat the jinx that has kept him out of the money. Other Class 2 starters will be Dean Worcester, Silver Spring, Md.; Jim Baden, Washington; Ed Meekler, Jersey City; Joe Stager, Flushing, N. Y.; Henry Shakeshaft, White Plains, N. Y.; Ray Shilling, Kensington; Dutch Sollday, Middlesex, N. J.; Milt Carmichael, Scranton, Pa.; Johnny Dea, Newportville, Pa.; Emily Mayer, College Point, N. Y., and Joe Frins, Brooklyn.

Eight boats in each class will qualify for two feature events. In addition to the regularly scheduled six races, women State Champions Jane Hendrickson, N. J.; Dottie Mayer, N. Y., and Midge Clark, Conn., will be matched in a special added feature.

Time trials are scheduled for 12 noon, with the first qualifying heat to start at 2:30 p. m. Special buses directly to the Aquadrome will make connections with No. 66 line trolleys at Philadelphia City Line at Torresdale.

SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

IT'S HIS DAY for bargains! Tell the man of the house and your older sons that all the men's straw hats, including many famous brands, are reduced in price at Snellenburg's! There are all sizes, all styles. Reductions are as follows: $2.85 for hats formerly priced at $3.85 to $3.95; $3.45 for hats formerly $4.95 to $6.65; $4.95 for hats formerly $6.95 to $10. A new hat now will still be fresh for next season, and at what a saving! (3rd fl.)

HI, MOTHER! Does Junior want a new pair of all-wool swim trunks? Too expensive? Not at all. You'll agree when I tell you that the Boys' Center of the Snellenburg store is now selling the $1.75, $1.95, and some $2.95 swim trunks at a mere $1. There are all the wanted solid colors, in junior and prep sizes. Ever shopped in this Boys' Center? Do! They have so many grand things for boys, at just as grand prices. (3rd fl.)

DON'T GIVE UP the garden to the insect regiments! Persistent spraying and dusting is the answer—and with the right chemicals. The Snellenburg Garden Dept. will give expert advice on pest destroyers. The new "Bug Blaster" cylinder at $1.98 is a miracle. "Weed-No-More" at $1 is a marvel. "Pestroy" activated powder at 39c is a gardener's boon. Many others. (1st fl.)

STURDY CAPS for bathers, caps in all-white, heavy rubber, having a good stretch, are nice to find at a reasonable price. The Notions Dept. of the Snellenburg store is noted for its bathing caps. These particular caps I am describing come in both strapless diver style and in strapped aviator styles. Priced at but 59c. In the same department you can buy hairnets of real hair at $1 a dozen. They sell at 10c each separately. They are in regulation cap shape, and come in black, brown in three shades, blond and auburn. If you like, you can order the dozen in assorted shades. Elastic edged night nets, too, at 10c each. (1st fl.)

COOL COOKING. Why heat up the kitchen, the whole house, in summer, by cooking heavy meals—yes, even if the members of your household like such substantial meals? Simply have on your shelves those delicious meals in cans. The Chestnut St. Snellenburg Food Shop has a most unusual array. Let me tell you of just a few—corned beef and cabbage at 49c, Irish stew at 59c, beef stew at 49c, sauer kraut and frankfurters at 33c, roast beef hash at 39c, lamb stew at 39c; beef and gravy, $1.09; spare ribs and kraut, 49c. There are more. From one to two cans will enable you to prepare a superlatively cooked dinner in a few minutes. Also, these canned dinners are the perfect answer for people living alone. (1st fl.)

TEEN SWIM SUITS reduced! Now the youngsters can have those more expensive swim suits they've wanted—at just about half of the original price. The Snellenburg Teens Dept. has reduced its $3 to $6 suits to $1.89 and $2.89. There are all sorts of smooth styles—one-piece, two-piece, halter types, in rayon knit, part wool, lastex, bengaline, etc. All the suits are famous brands. Sizes 8 to 16. The girls can wear 'em now, bring 'em out for next year! (2nd fl.)

POSTURE SNEAKERS—the scientifically built canvas shoes that do not destroy the arch of the foot—can be bought in the Snellenburg Shoe Dept. These are Goodrich shoes designed by the "Posture Foundation." Let me name you the reasonable prices for this truly excellent footwear—boys' sizes 2 1/2 to 6, $3.25; men's and boys' sizes 6 1/2 to 10, $3.35. Also, there are to be had stunning casual oxfords of the same "Posture Foundation" type, white with brown trim, having heavy crepe rubber soles, in men's and boys' sizes 6 to 12, at $4.95. (1st fl.)

BRINGING IN OUTDOORS in summer is quite simple. With the aid of only a screw-driver you can adjust a "Climax Cooler" in the window of any room. The Cooler brings in a constant stream of fresh air. The rolled steel plate, enameled in ivory, has mounted in it a powerful 16-inch propeller with three speeds. The Cooler is quiet enough to run throughout the night, and at but a few cents' worth of current. As it is now the middle of the season, this conditioner can now be had for $39.95 instead of $51. If you wish, it can be bought on a deferred payment plan. Snellenburgs, House Furnishings Dept. (3rd fl.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT. 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you! Faithfully, FAITH.

SOUTHAMPTON TO PROHIBIT JUNKYARDSNuisance Ordinance Given To Supervisors of the District*PLAN BOND ISSUE

SOUTHAMPTON, July 10 — This municipality, like numerous others, is having the junkyard problem to cope with. A possible solution is offered in a report submitted at the last meeting of the Southampton Chamber of Commerce. It was reported that a nuisance ordinance has been presented to the local supervisors which is said to give them authority to forbid the establishment of business places that would depreciate property values because of objectionable odors or junk or auto graveyards.

Mr. Tomlinson gave a report on the progress being made with the State Highway Department and the Reading railroad for the promised sidewalk improvement over the railroad crossing to Knowles avenue, opposite the post office.

A report was made by the secretary in reference to the removal of no parking signs on the pike, the changing of speed regulation signs, and consideration of a traffic light at the Street road and Second Street intersection. They have again promised to correct the present unsatisfactory traffic condition through Southampton.

Mr. Ermentrout spoke on the progress of the new water company. The government has advanced $5000 toward the furtherance of the project, and engineers are working on the plans for this much-needed public utility.

Mr. Harding, one of the school directors, called the members' attention to the future needs of the Upper Southampton - Warmminster district. He asked for a favorable vote in the fall elections for the passing of needed authority to float a bond issue for the purpose of financing the school building needs of the future.

90 Scouts, Leaders At Camp First Week

Scouts are taking advantage of the opportunities to advance in scoutcraft tests, merit badge work and general camp fun. A large group of beginners is being taught the water safety and Scout program as laid out by the Boy Scouts of America. Frederick B. Schneek, assistant camp director, in charge of the commissary, through his department is providing ample food for the Scouts. He reports that appetites are as large as ever and that every boy is being well taken care of in this respect.

In the Saturday evening program, the ceremonial campfire will be an event which is open to all parents and friends of the Scouts, and will be held at the council ring at eight p. m. Boys will be presented with awards which they have earned during the week, and the honor troop will be announced. Every troop in camp is under senior leadership.

The boys are enjoying camp life, it is stated. In spite of the various kinds of weather there, is ample equipment and ample program of all kinds to take care of the needs of every boy for the entire camp, the management announces.

STORED-UP SUNLIGHT IS BIG AID TO MAN

Food Is Dependent To A Great Extent On What Happened Ages Ago

NITROGEN VALUABLE

(Prepared for The Courier by the State Planning Board of the Department of Commerce.)

One of the most interesting facts about modern industrial life is our dependence on events that occurred millions of years before man appeared on the earth.

A large part of the fuel energy which supplies us with light and heat and turns the wheels of our factories is developed from the stored-up sunlight of trees and plants growing in American swamps and untold ages ago.

But it is not only heat, light and power for which we are indebted to the ancient history of the earth. The element nitrogen is absolutely necessary to plant and animal growth. The only large source of that element is the air, but nitrogen is easily lost from soil and must be constantly replaced by fertilizer or nitrogen-fixing plants such as alfalfa. An important part of the nitrogen which maintains the fertility of American soil is extracted by the by-product coke ovens of Pennsylvania from bituminous coal. This nitrogen, which the coke ovens produce in the form of sulphate of ammonia, was extracted from the air by tree ferns and club mosses that grew in Pennsylvania, even before the age of the great dinosaurs. When we eat food from soil fertilized with this chemical by-product, we are building our bodies out of material extracted from the air of the earth many million years ago and held locked up in the ground in the coal measures during most of the long history of vertebrate life.

According to data released by the United States Bureau of Mines, approximately 27 per cent of all sulphate of ammonia produced from coal comes from Pennsylvania—more than twice as much as from any other state.

In 1945, 32½ million tons of Pennsylvania coal were used in the manufacture of by-product coke—18½ million tons being used within the Commonwealth. Pennsylvania's output of this important soil chemical frequently exceeds 500 million pounds every year. Compounded into fertilizing material, this nitrogen from the air of a very ancient world is one of the important sources of our present health and well-being.

Inside Your Congress

The Key To Next Year's Campaign

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

When Mr. Truman vetoed the tax bill, he used a word that shows the inside of his mind as plainly as a machine in a doctor's office shows the safety pin the baby swallowed. Here it is, and it foretells next year's campaign. It is the word "inequity."

If you have wanted to believe that the real Truman is a follower of Jefferson and not of Karl Marx, read on.

Truman says it is inequitable to reduce taxes on the top incomes 30%, on the middle incomes 30%, and on the lower incomes 30%. That is sinful, immoral and inequitable. It offends the law laid down by the prophet, Karl Marx. In short, the tax on the top incomes should have been reduced only 5%, or not at all, or, perhaps, increased. So, Truman vetoes the bill saying that it is inequitable. "The inequity of these provisions (proposed reductions) would be frozen into the tax structure."

This can mean just one thing. If it is inequitable to reduce top income taxes 30% while reducing low income taxes 30%, then it is "inequitable" for the top man to ever have the income in the first place. That is Truman's logic. It shows the socialist trend of his thinking. According to him, the taxing power should be used to level off the "inequities" of income and do so regardless of whether any man's higher income represents value given to society by superior ability, skill, and sweat, or, on the other hand, the gain from cracking a safe, or robbing a labor union's treasury. Both is no longer equitable to have and to be taxed alike.

If larger income, honestly earned, hold, then differences in the holdings of property, land, houses, or government bonds are inequitable also.

Under the Truman doctrine, states and local governments should begin to tax homes at graduated rates rather than at the same rate per $100 of value. If, as he implies, it is inequitable for someone to have a $50,000 income when others have only $2,500 incomes, then it is wrong for anyone to have a $50,000 home.

The worst thing the Republican Party ever did to this Republic was to pass the 16th Amendment, authorizing the taxing of incomes without any limit or ceiling whatever. Government, in time of peace, should have no more absolute power over a man's property than over his life or liberty.

Now look at a prophecy made 50 years ago by one of the greatest judges who ever sat on the United States Supreme Court, Justice Stephen J. Field, in a famous income tax decision in 1895. Read it. And then read Truman's veto again. Here it is:

"The present assault upon capital is but the beginning. It will be the stepping stone to others, larger and more sweeping until our political contests will become a war of the poor against the rich, a war constantly growing in intensity and bitterness."

Most everybody pool-pooled Justice Field 52 years ago. But was he right or wrong? The "beginning" he spoke of was a tax of only 2% levied on only a few. The "larger and more sweeping" tax which Mr. Truman refuses to reduce now reaches 77%. Justice Field went on to say that a majority may fix the amount of income exempted from tax "so as not to include any of their own number."

Between Truman's belief that the power to tax should be used to redistribute wealth and level life's rewards and Justice Field's effort "to hold the shield of the Constitution between the citizen and despotism" there is a great gulf. It is the difference between Jefferson and Marx. Jefferson said, "To take from one, because it is thought that his industry... has acquired too much in order to give to others who have not exercised equal industry" is to violate the principles which made America." Mr. Truman did not quote this at Jefferson's home last Friday, the 4th of July.

"LITTLE IODINE"

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Bickley Burns Brodhead
Pastor
Bensalem Methodist Church

Father of all men, whose love has eternally been our hope, we turn to Thee with all our burdens and anxieties. Problems beset us without and within; grant us wisdom and strength to bear them. Teach us afresh to cast our burdens on thee, that in quietness and in confidence we may renew our strength. Breathe the calm of Thy Spirit into our troubled hearts and lift our eyes from the material things that beset us to the eternal grace which is sufficient to our every need. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
